period of years. A good deal of space is devoted to the Zionist movement upon which Zangwill holds sensible opinions.

Only one nation in our time has endured so much as the Jew. Zangwill concludes his book thus: "One people is suffering more. That people, whose ancient realm held the legendary Eden, has now for a hiding place the pit of Hell. I bow before this higher majesty of sorrow. I take the crown of thorns from Israel's head and I place it upon Armenia's."

INTERNATIONAL CO-OPERATION.

At its Annual Meeting, December 30, 1921, the American Philosophical Association (Eastern Division) appropriated a considerable part of its available funds for literary aid to European universities and scholars. The vote on the resolution was unanimous. The great need for books and periodicals on the part of scholars impoverished by the war and its consequences impressed the Association when it was brought to the attention of the Meeting. From the editors among its membership it learned also of the many requests from abroad for gifts of current journals—requests which the several reviews have often met, but which as a whole their resources do not allow them to satisfy. Finally, it was felt that this was a form of international co-operation which all could approve.

The Association appropriated two hundred dollars—one third of its balance—for this purpose. In the discussion of the motion, the hope was also expressed that additional gifts of money or books might be received from individuals. The management of the fund was entrusted to the Committee on International Co-operation, which met immediately and appointed Professors Woodbridge and Cohen a Sub-Committee to take direct charge of the work. Arrangements have now been perfected for the forwarding and distribution, without charge, of whatever we may be able to give. It is very desirable that any of our members who feel able to contribute, or to spare books or journals from their libraries, should communicate with the Sub-Committee so soon as may be convenient. In particular, it is desired to collect works representing the more recent phases of American thought. In case of doubt, the Sub-Committee will be glad to answer concerning the suitability of any list suggested for donation. Checks may be drawn, and books forwarded, to Professor Frederick J. E.
